BUSINESS AND FINANCE

EDITED BY
WILLIAM M. CONRADBanks Show Gains on Call of Comptroller

Comptroller Crissinger of the Currency today issued his expected call for the condition of the banks as of September 6, and Washington financial institutions are showing nice gains in deposits in the great majority of instances, showing plainly that business is on the mend, and that money is moving more freely.

In a number of instances where banks lost on the call of June 30, there have been appreciable increases in their deposits during the past period.

The American Security and Trust Company with deposits of nearly $22,000,000 shows a gain of over $425,000 over the last call, while the Washington Loan and Trust Company with deposits of over $10,000,000 has lost about $100,000 in its deposits.

Figures at the Riggs National Bank had not been compiled early this afternoon, but with approximate deposits of nearly $21,000,000, it was stated that a loss would be shown of about $1,500,000 on the figures of the previous call.

At the National Savings and Trust Company with approximate deposits of $9,500,000, there is a gain of nearly $290,000. The Continental Trust with approximately $2,400,000 in deposits has lost $300,000.

Federal National Gains.

The Federal National Bank shows a gain of $138,711.24 with deposits of $4,166,453.30, while the Franklin National Bank with deposits of $3,269,329.29 shows a gain of $135,327.87, and the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank with deposits of $2,337,201.38 has a gain of $179,934.61.

The Mount Vernon Savings has gained nearly $150,000 with deposits of $1,664,974.05, while the Union Savings, with nearly $1,800,000 in deposits, has made a gain of over $62,000.

At the Security Savings & Commercial bank where there was a good gain on the last call, the loss is about $70,000 with deposits of $3,172,400.

The Merchants Bank with deposits of $2,310,388.14 has gained $100,000, and the Citizens Saving Bank with deposits of $758,485.30 shows a gain of nearly $25,000.

Maturing Indebtedness.

He also revealed the maturing indebtedness that will fall on the Treasury during the present fiscal year, ending June 30, 1922. These maturings, the Treasury expects to receive during September about $525,000 from the quarterly payments of income and profits taxes and from ordinary revenue.

For the first two months of the current fiscal year through August 31, 1921, on the basis of the Treasury daily statements," said the Secretary's communication, "show a net current deficit (excess of ordinary disbursements over ordinary receipts) of $161,464,774."

With the September tax collections, however, Secretary Mellon believes there should be a small net current surplus for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, ending September 30.

Back From Vacations.

James Trimble and George Starkey, vice presidents of the National Bank of Washington, have returned to the city from brief vacations.

Mr. Trimble has been on Chesapeake Bay on a fishing trip, while Mr. Starkey has been at Atlantic City.
